Earth Day at Franklin

Earth Day is Tuesday 22 April 2025.

It's a global event that aims to highlight the importance of protecting the environment. The Franklin Sustainability group has planned a PowerPoint for the Bridge and a stall in college. Please go along to the stall, located in The Buzz area, on the first day back.

And why not consider joining the Sustainability Group? Email roy.horobin@franklin.ac.uk for more information or with questions.

Alivio & Esperança (Relief & Hope) - student fundraising campaign

Current Franklin student, Matias, has developed a project in his home country of Angola. The project is called Alivio & Esperança (Relief & Hope) and initially involved Matias when he was on home visits, using his own money to buy food and then his mum cooked 86 meals which they handed out to the community.

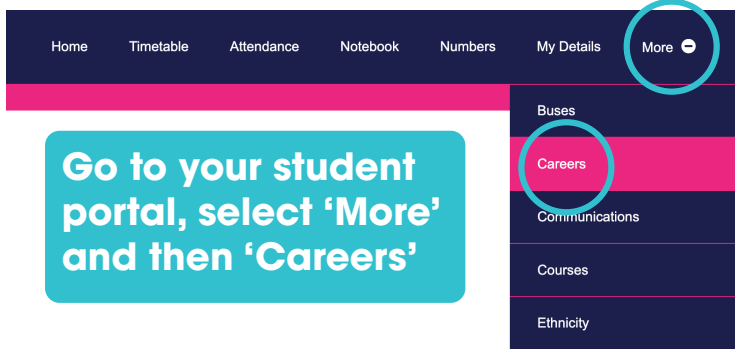

Matias has continued with this project whilst he studies and works in the UK, he is now trying to promote the project so that he can make another donation for Christmas.

"Some of these children have never had a Christmas, I want to give them that family time".

If you are able to donate at all, please click this link for the GoFundMe.

MASTERCLASSES

The Evolution of Galaxies with the University of Hull

In this lecture, Professor Kevin Pimblet will take us on a tour of how the study of space and astronomy has evolved during his career. He will showcase some of his contributions investigating galaxy evolution, black holes, cosmology, and allied fields over this time period and how technology (including machine learning) has evolved in tandem with our knowledge. He will address fundamental questions such as why are some galaxies red or blue, and how they change over time through some of the most dramatic and energetic interactions in history.

This will take place on Wednesday 28th May – click here to book your ticket.

A World Remade by Decolonization with Gresham College

The lecture shares perspectives from global history, comparative politics, and international relations to reevaluate whether the twentieth-century collapse of European colonialism was as definitive as often portrayed. It suggests that, while in some ways, ending European Empires remade our contemporary world, in others processes of decolonization are far from complete.

This will take place on Wednesday 9th April from 6pm. Click here to register.

Managing your Wellbeing during Exams and Tests with Unifrog

Exams and tests are important for opening doors to your next steps, but you need to manage your wellbeing to get the best results. In this webinar, hear from the University of Lincoln and one of Unifrog's mental health champions about their top tips for managing exam and test stress, help you to find your best revision style, and signpost you to some useful resources for accessing support.

This will take place on Wednesday 7th May at 4:30pm. Sign up here.

How would you solve these environmental health cases? With Unifrog

We've all seen rating scores on food outlets, but what do they mean? What actions would you take as an environmental health officer? Join Chartered Environmental Health Practitioner and LJMU lecturer Graeme Mitchell to learn about how local authorities make sure that food prepared for us abides by the rules. This interactive webinar will explore how food hygiene ratings are generated, the role environmental health plays in checking food is safe, and how to get into this career.

This will take place on Thursday 8th May from 5:30pm - click here to sign up.

A SPOTLIGHT

ON...

Fashion & Beauty

Fashion and beauty is all about creating, styling and looking your best. It's big business too, with endless jobs for trendsetters and innovators who want to make their mark.

What Fashion & Beauty jobs can I do?

- Cosmetic chemist: Science meets beauty. Cosmetic chemists create and improve makeup, skincare and perfumes. They're behind that perfect foundation or long-lasting lip colour.
- Dressmaker: Creates unique, made-to-order clothes like wedding dresses or festival fits.
- Fashion designer: Turns inspiration into styles you actually want to wear. Fashion designers work on everything from high-street looks to luxury pieces.
- Fashion photographer: Makes fashion look fire through stunning images. They shoot everything from runway shows to editorial spreads, turning clothes into art.
- Fashion PR officer: Creates hype for brands and keeps them in the public eye. Fashion PR pros know how to get everyone talking.
- Makeup artist: Turns faces into masterpieces. Makeup artists work on shoots, runways or even theatre, creating everything from glam looks to movie makeup magic.
- Model: Models are the faces of fashion, from runway to Instagram shoots. They make the clothes come alive.
- Spa therapist: Helps clients relax with massages and treatments in luxury spas. Spa therapists know how to create the perfect chill-out experience.

What are the top skills required to work in Fashion & Beauty?

Communication is essential for making clients happy and collaborating on big projects. It's all about getting your message across. Creativity helps you bring new styles and solutions to life. Fashion and beauty are all about standing out. Customer service keeps clients coming back. Whether in a salon or retail, great service makes all the difference. People skills - fashion and beauty is about connecting with clients and teammates. Good vibes matter. Teamwork - working with others is key, whether you're backstage at a show or in a salon. Collaboration makes everything better - and easier!

How do I start a career in fashion and beauty?

You can do apprenticeships such as Advanced Beauty Therapy or Hairdressing - hands-on experience can really pay off! Uni is also a great choice for jobs like fashion design, journalism, or cosmetic science. You can get certified through groups such as the Chartered Society of Designers, or the National Association of Screen Makeup Artists - these really help you level up in the industry.

Undergraduate Open Day with the University of Lincoln

Secure your spot at one of the University of Lincoln's Undergraduate Open Days and experience what it's like to study at Lincoln! During an Open Day, you can attend subject talks for the courses you are interested in, tour their accommodation and facilities, meet face-to-face with academic tutors, and speak to our staff about the things that matter to you.

Their Student Ambassadors are also on hand to share their experiences, from doing their coursework and exams, to going out in the city. Speaking of the city, why not explore Lincoln and get a feel for what it is like to live there?

The next open days are on Friday 4th July and Saturday 5th July – click here to book your place!

Biosciences: Animal Reproduction and Conservation Taster Session with the University of Sheffield

Reproductive failure is a major issue for many threatened species and is often a barrier to conservation success. But what are the main drivers of reproductive failure in wild animal populations, and how can advances in fertility research lead to more effective conservation interventions? This taster session will be led by Dr Nicola Hemmings, a leading researcher in the fields of animal reproduction, behaviour, and conservation.

This will take place on Thursday 10th April from 5pm – 6:30pm – click here to register.

Understanding Gender and Society in the French-Speaking World with the University of Sheffield

This online session provides insight into one of the optional modules available to students of French language and francophone cultures at the University of Sheffield. Discover how we approach the topic of gender from historical and a modern-day perspective, journeying from the French Revolution to events currently hitting the news.

This will take place on Tuesday 29th April from 12pm – 1:15pm – click here to register.
